2nd Week of September, 2024

5th-8th Grade

From Mr. Aguilar,

I hope your family had a fantastic Labor Day weekend! We had a great first week back to school, and we ask for God's blessings on the week ahead.

Learning for this week

Literature

We are continuing the book The Cricket in Times Square. We will be looking at making predictions and the differences between plot and theme.

English

We are getting into a routine of writing in our morning work, as we work with different types of sentences. We will begin reviewing parts of speech this week.

History

This week we will learn about European exploration in the Americas and spending some time learning about the Conquistadors.

Science

We will have a retake on the section 2 quiz on Thursday, the 12th this week. There was some confusion on when the quiz was, so to set everyone up for success on the test, we are having another go at it.

What we learned last week

- We learned about Living Things in science.
- We learned about Paul's First Missionary Journey in Religion

Important Dates

- 9th | Cross Country Meet in Appleton
- 12th | Science Quiz Section 2 Retake
- 13th | Unit 2 Spelling Test

Math

We are getting into the routine of math class: going over our previous assignment, working on our math facts, and learning the new lesson. The students each have an IXL account on which they review math skills we have learned so far. They can do this at home, as well. All they have to do is bring home their login info and they can work on their math skills or play some math games at home!
