Did You Know?

Today is Everything You Think Is Wrong Day.

Today is a day where decision making should be avoided, as your thoughts are (according to the founder of this holiday) wrong. It is also a day created for some people to realize that they are not always right.

- In 2003, a Boeing 727 was stolen from an airport in Angola. It still has not been found despite a worldwide search.
- In North Korea, men and women are required to choose from 28 state sanctioned hairstyles. There are 10 styles for men and 18 styles for women.
- In Japan there are Owl Cafés where you can pet and play with owls while enjoying a meal.
